D. Charles Williams, Ph.D.

Licensed Psychologist | Marriage and Family Counselor | Athens, Georgia

We often read articles about what wives wish their husbands would do differently to make their marriage better. The following list represents “best practices” of what successful husbands have discovered make their wives think they are the luckiest women alive:

1. Make her feel like she is the most significant person in your life.
2. Listen- truly listen when she talks and show her by your response that you value what she says.
3. Always remember and celebrate important dates. Write them down in your calendar.
4. Say something that is positive about her regularly in private and in the company of others.
5. Praise and appreciate her differences because these qualities complement your weaknesses.
6. Be sensitive to times she feels insecure, insignificant and self-conscious and encourage her more then.
7. Make her feel safe and protected by stepping up and handling situations with which she is uncomfortable.
8. Talk considerably about differences you have in private without belittling her always accepting responsibility for your part of the problem first.
9. Consistently treat her with patience and your love life will never be infrequent, lackluster or obligatory.
10. Be affectionate and practice daily rituals of hugs, kisses and non-sexual affirmation.
